

ABOUT THE CONVENTION

The National Academy of Veterinary Sciences(India) is organizing XVI Convocation cum Scientific Convention on “Advancement in Veterinary Science: Impact on Enhancing Farmers Income” on 4th and 5th November 2017 at College of Veterinary Science, Sri Venkateswara Veterinary University, Tirupati. The emphasis is on Role of Advances in Veterinary Science on doubling the Income of Farmers. Growth in Livestock and other allied areas in the coming years would largely accrue from improvements in productivity of diversified farming systems with regional specialization and sustainable management of natural resources. We have to gear up to the current demands of urban markets, globalization, changing consumption patterns, rising population, socioeconomic status, land and water constraints, climate change, sustainability and emerging diseases that influence production, processing and marketing patterns in livestock and allied sectors.

The programme includes a convocation ceremony for induction of new Fellows/Members in the Academy followed by Key note addresses/lead papers and other papers on the theme, followed by General Body Meeting.

ABOUT THE ACADEMY

NAVS was established in 1993 with the aim and objective of promoting knowledge of Veterinary Sciences, its practical application and to secure coordination between Veterinarians and other scientific Academic societies, Associations, institutions and Veterinary / Animal Husbandry scientific developments and services.
